Calls to save Vale corridor from 'being vastly overdeveloped by housing estates'

Villages come under threat from yet more Didcot homes

By Samantha McGregor

CONCERNS have been raised about the expansion of Didcot into surrounding towns and villages after plans to build thousands of homes across the Vale of White Horse were approved by a planning inspector.

A total of 20,560 new homes are set to be built up to 2031, with Didcot taking the lion's share.

The decision comes after a public inquiry was held earlier this year.

The Vale council is expected to formally adopt the Local Plan 2031, Part 1, at a full council meeting next Wednesday.

While Cllr Gervase Duffield, who represents Sutton Courtenay, said the plan was "better than nothing", he raised concerns about overdevelopment in the area.

He said: "[It's] certainly better than nothing, but it does not alter the fact that the Vale corridor area is being vastly overdeveloped by not very good quality and design housing estates, far more than anyone locally wants. And soon we are threatened with some Didcot Garden City additional expansion."

He added: "Is anyone going to save the villages from complete urbanisation? Just look at the extended boundaries of the projected Didcot Garden City."

Vale council leader Matthew Barber said he was "delighted" by the progress being made.

He said: "After a process that has taken several years and has seen communities across the Vale contributing to the Local Plan, we are now in a position to have much greater control over all development in the Vale."

Lottery millionaire Pam Aird teamed up with other winners to help turn a wooden shed into a giant gingerbread playhouse for charity.
The kind winner who also donated some of her winnings from October to local theatre groups including the Phoenix in Didcot said it was good to be able to help other projects through her good luck.

Student dies on ski trip to French resort

By George Welch

TRIBUTES have flooded in for an Oxford University student who died on a ski trip in France.

Friends found Matt Smith, a 22-year-old history undergraduate at St John's College, after he had a cardio-respiratory arrest on Sunday, according to local reports.

The student was treated by emergency services at 8am local time but the skiing enthusiast could not be saved.

Matt was just one of thousands of students from Oxford and Cambridge universities attending the annual week-long Varsity ski trip, which dates back to 1921.

He died at his accommodation in the Val Thorens resort in the Alps and tributes have been paid by friends and family.

His father, Howard Smith, a financial consultant, told the London Evening Standard he would be flying out to France as he tried to come to terms with his son's sudden death.

He told the Standard: "The most important thing for us is that Matt was with his friends. His friends meant so much to him.

"He was with everybody skiing, close to the snow, doing what he loved."

Childhood friend Sam Hoskin took to Facebook to say: "From spending every day of summer crashing yours or going on every ski trip together since we were 10. You were my very first best friend and I will always cherish every memory from our childhood. Rest in peace brother x."

Another friend, Glenn Tamkin, said: "What we have once enjoyed, we can never lose – I love you so much man."

Matt's brother Harry wrote: "I love you so much, Matt. Rest well above the clouds."

An Oxford University spokesman said: "We would like to express our deep sadness at the tragic death of Matt Smith, and send our condolences to his family and friends.

"While we await the findings of the official investigation. we are offering support to students who may have been affected.

"Members of the college were invited to gather yesterday (Sunday) to remember him, and any member of the college who is particularly affected by this sad news has been encouraged to contact the chaplain or any member of the welfare team."

The Foreign Office said it was supporting Matt's family and had made contact with local authorities.

Annual campaign aims to catch drink- and drug-drivers

THE annual campaign to deter motorists from driving while under the influence of drink or drugs has been launched by Thames Valley Police.

The force is working with Hampshire Constabulary to deter and detect behaviour behind the wheel that puts lives in danger on the roads.

Every driver involved in a collision will be breathalysed by police, and officers will make extra patrols based on intelligence about suspected offenders.

These policing tactics are designed to be a deterrent to any motorist thinking about driving while impaired through the effects of alcohol or drugs.

During patrols carried out between December 1, 2015, and January 1, 2106, 297 people were arrested on suspicion of drink- and/or drug-driving.

Since 2011, there have been 46 fatalities on roads in the Thames Valley Police Force area in which alcohol or drugs may have been a contributory factor.

Thames Valley Police's road safety lead, Sgt Chris Appleby, said: "Drink- and drug-driving kills or injures people.

"Drivers who drink or take drugs and cause deaths on the road can be sentenced to years of imprisonment.

"Losing a loved one to drink or drug-driving devastates the victim's families – think about their pain when sitting at the dinner table on Christmas Day and someone is not there because of an act of drink- or drug-driving.

"Members of the public can help by passing us vital information and help us take these drivers off the roads by calling police on either 101 or, in an emergency, 999.

"Our message is simple – don't mix drink or drugs with driving – #ItsNotWorthTheRisk."

If any member of the public suspects someone is driving while impaired by drink or drugs, please take action to report details to police.

Call Thames Valley Police on 101 or text 80999 with details of the vehicle, driver, location and times. In a life-threatening emergency, always dial 999.

If you wish to remain anonymous, call the independent Crimestoppers charity on 0800 555 111.

• Firefighters and the road safety education team at Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service have been offering guidance on how to avoid drink-driving and how to keep you and other road users safe.

Catch their advice on Monday at Sainsbury's at Heyford Hill from 10am to 12.30pm and at Carterton Community Centre from 8.30am to 12.30pm.

Fatal crash charge

A MAN has been charged with causing death by dangerous driving after a three-year-old girl suffered fatal injuries in a multiple pile-up on the A34.

Thomas Hunter, 58 of Mansfield Road, Mansfield, was arrested on August 25 after the eight-vehicle accident near Hinksey Hill.

Three-year-old Isla Wiggin died in hospital two days later.

Her pregnant mum also lost an unborn baby in the incident. The 31-year-old was taken to hospital to be treated for serious injuries.

Originally arrested in August on suspicion of causing serious injury by dangerous driving, Hunter answered his bail on Monday this week and was re-arrested on suspicion of causing death by dangerous driving and then charged.

He has been released on bail to appear at Oxford Magistrates' Court on January 17.

The crash happened two weeks and one day after three children and a mum died in an eight-vehicle pile-up on the A34 about 15 miles south, near East Ilsley.

Lorry driver Tomasz Kroker, of Tarjan Walk, Andover, was jailed for 10 years for four counts of causing death by dangerous driving.

Group digs community garden

Lottery winner Pam aids charity's playhouse work

• Lottery winner Pam Aird and other winners at the project site

A LOTTERY millionaire joined fellow winners to transform a wood cabin into a giant gingerbread playhouse for charity.

Pam Aird, of Botley, Oxford, won £1m in the UK Millionaire Maker on October 25 and teamed up with the winners' workforce for Hamelin Trust's Roots and Shoots project.

The trust has benefitted from £650,000 funding from the National Lottery and uses the cash for community projects. Roots and Shoots provides training and work experience for adults with learning disabilities.

The lottery winners worked for 24 hours to create the playhouse and filled it with gifts and toys.

They used more than 100 litres of paint, 60 paintbrushes, 25 metres of twinkly lights and six sacks of snow.

Pam, who also used some of her lottery cash to help theatre groups in Abingdon and Didcot, said it was great to witness first hand the effect of funding for projects such as this one.

She said: "While my life has been changed overnight with the win, it's good to know that other incredibly important projects just like this are also lottery winners.

"We've had a great time working with the project on the gingerbread house and I really hope this gift will help Roots and Shoots continue to grow and develop to help many more people in the future. The team here are an inspiration and deserve our support!"

Ricky Cock, project leader for Roots and Shoots said: "The timing of this amazing gift from local lottery winners couldn't be better. We've just had approval to develop a new tearoom on-site which will use and sell fresh produce from the gardens here.

"The tearoom will open in the summer and our new gingerbread house will be a real draw to the site.

"It's so exciting. We just cannot believe that all these people, who could surely be sunning themselves on an exotic beach somewhere, have instead picked up paintbrushes and hammers to give us a fantastic Christmas present."

VOLUNTEERS from Sustainable Didcot have created a community fruit garden in the town.

Dwarf fruit trees (apple, pear, cherry and plum), currants, raspberries and strawberries in raised beds have been planted outside Cornerstone Arts Centre as part of the community group's 'Incredible Edible Didcot' project.

The event took place on plant beds next to Cornerstone Arts Centre in the midst of Didcot's first food festival.

Once established, the fruit will be free for the community to harvest and enjoy. The project has been funded by Go Green Taxis, whose staff also joined as volunteers on the day.

Adam Reid, co-chair of Sustainable Didcot, said: "We had such a positive response to the community herb garden we planted here back in August and realised there was a huge public appetite for more, so it's back by popular demand."

Amongst the supporters were town councillor Charlie Robertson, who said: "This is the kind of thing that should be happening more and more often. Not only does it improve the aesthetics of the town, but it also gets the whole community involved."

Sustainable Didcot is a community action group for Didcot residents with a shared interest in the environment, living sustainably and raising awareness of climate change.

With Didcot's new status as a Garden Town, Mr Reid added: "We are hoping that orchards and community food growing can form a core part of Didcot's new green infrastructure.

"It would also be a brilliant opportunity for people to learn how to cultivate their own crops and perhaps even start new community food businesses."

Go Green Taxis said: "Go Green Taxis are very much looking forward to getting involved with Phase 2 of Sustainable Didcot 'Incredible Edible Didcot'."

Tree festival

EAST HAGBOURNE: A village church is holding a 10-day Christmas tree festival.

Members of the congregation at St Andrew's Church in East Hagbourne are decorating 30 trees that will go on display from Saturday until Tuesday, December 20, with people being asked to vote for their favourite.

Comments made

DIDCOT: Didcot First have sent their comments to the Boundary Commission for England over changing the Wantage constituency name to Didcot or at least Didcot and Wantage.

The independent organisation that promotes Didcot submitted their views through the commission's consultation website adding that the town's population has grown from 15,000 in 1981 to an anticipated 30,000 by the end of this year.

Based on views submitted, the commission may revise its proposals next year.

Reindeers visit

DIDCOT: Shoppers are in for a treat at the Orchard Centre on Saturday when Santa will be visiting with real reindeer from 11am to 3pm.

During his visit until 2pm, youngsters can enjoy the creation station children's workshop. The following Saturday, elf monitors will check whether children have been good enough to receive gifts.

Vale plan to be adopted

By George Welch

PLANS to build thousands of new homes in Oxfordshire have been given the green light by the Government's planning inspector.

Vale of White Horse District Council has been given approval for part one of its local plan, which sets out where around 20,500 homes will be built over the next 15 years, up until 2031.

The plan allocates sites for development up to 2031 and was largely unchanged by the inspector.

Included in the plan are about 1,500 homes on greenbelt land near Abingdon, Radley and Kennington.

However several areas, including Cumnor and Botley, which were going to be removed from the greenbelt have been protected.

The biggest development is for more than 2,500 homes near Harwell, known as Valley Park.

The Vale expects to adopt the plan at a council meeting on December 14, with the final plan to be published the following day.

The Vale said the plan would ensure communities are more protected from speculative developments.

The Planning Inspectorate has written to Vale confirming the plan has been found sound and can be adopted by the council, subject to modifications.

Once the plan is adopted, the district's five-year land supply will be secure and major development should only happen in areas identified in the plan, the council said.

This means the Vale will have much greater control over what developments are allowed to be built.

Cllr Matthew Barber, leader of the Vale, said: "After a process that has taken several years and has seen communities across the Vale contributing to the Local Plan we are now in a position to have much greater control over all development in the Vale.

"Adopting the Local Plan not only gives the council more control over where housing is delivered, but also makes it easier to secure the much needed infrastructure funding that should go with it."

As part of the approval, the inspectorate recommended:

- Clarifying the district's approach to unmet housing needs from other districts
- Removing three housing allocation sites from the plan, which includes the south of East Hanney, north west of Harwell Campus and east of Harwell Campus sites
- Safeguarding land to the north of Longworth for a possible strategic storage water reservoir.

In spring next year the Vale will consult on the preferred options for part two of the Local Plan – this will cover allocating sites to meet Oxford City's unmet housing needs.

The inspectors' full report can read at www.whitehorsedc.gov.uk/localplan

Cow rescued from river

THE emergency services have urged people to contact them if they see an animal stuck in water after a passer-by tried to save a cow in the Wharf Stream in Eynsham.

The cow became stuck beside deep water shortly before 8.30am on Sunday and a passing runner reportedly jumped in to try to rescue it.

A specialist rescue team entered the water in dry-suits and used rescue slings and harnesses to secure the animal and bring it back onto dry land with the help of firefighters on the riverbank. The cow was unharmed.

The incident commander, watch manager Frank Patterson, said: "All rescues from water are hazardous, especially in such cold conditions. We have rescue teams specially trained and equipped to deal with emergencies like this. If you see an animal in water and unable to get itself out, call 999 and ask for Fire and Rescue. Do not attempt a rescue alone – you will put yourself in danger and may need rescuing yourself."

Second Blackbird Leys primary school is branded as 'inadequate'

A Blackbird Leys school is in special measures following a damning Ofsted report found pupils were 'not prepared for life in modern Britain'.

Inspectors judged Orchard Meadow Primary School to be inadequate in its leadership, teaching, welfare and overall outcomes for pupils.

It also found early years provision needs improvement.

The Wesley Close school is the second primary in the Blackbird Leys area to be placed in special measures after Windale was rated inadequate in March 2015.

From their mid-October visit, inspectors criticised Orchard Meadow for its low standards in reading, writing and mathematics in a curriculum that 'restricts a broad spectrum of learning'.

It added that, in addition to too few pupils exceeding expectations for their age, poor behaviour of too many pupils "remains a significant area of concern".

Further, too many pupils do not attend school regularly and certain leaders are inexperienced in their roles.

On the other hand, the report said the new headteacher, Cathy Godden, "has quickly and accurately assessed the school's position and is already taking appropriate and decisive actions to bring about improvement".

It added that its early years provision has improved this year as a result.

In a statement, the Blackbird Academy Trust, which runs Orchard Meadow, Windale and Pegasus Primary School, said: "The new senior leadership team and the trustees of the Blackbird Academy Trust recognise that significant further work is needed to bring about sustained and consistent improvement across all year groups at Orchard Meadow School.

"To achieve this, together with staff and parents, we plan to build on the reported strengths and improvements now emerging at the school.

"We remain totally committed to ensuring the best possible start to their education for all children in the academy across The Leys."

Countdown to rail link start

By Samantha McGregor

IT'S the final countdown for the launch of a new £320m rail link connecting Oxford with London Marylebone via Bicester.

When the line opens on Monday, December 12, it will become the first new rail link between London and a major city for more than 100 years.

• The new rail link between Oxford and London opens on Monday

The final section of new track was laid on Monday, November 21, at 2.37am.

The launch of the service from Oxford rail station follows the start of train services between Oxford Parkway, near Kidlington, in October.

Chiltern Railways will operate the Oxford-to-London service, which will see two trains an hour to the capital.

The journey time between Oxford and London Marylebone is expected to be 66 minutes.

Locally, trains from Bicester Village Station to Oxford Station will run twice an hour, with the journey is expected to take about 16 minutes.

It has previously been said the new line could help reduce traffic on the A34 as it gives commuters a fast alternative way to travel from Bicester to Oxford.

Commenting on the launch, Dave Penney, managing director of Chiltern Railways, said: "Over 10 years in the making, this is a major milestone for both Network Rail and Chiltern Railways.

"The current service from Oxford Parkway has been phenomenally successful with over 1.5 million passengers using the line to date."

Mr Penney said: "The completion of the historic project provides an alternative route to London for over 100,000 people and reopens a key commuting line between the growing town of Bicester and Oxford."

The launch of the Oxford Parkway to London Marylebone service marked the first half of the rail project.

The new station constructed at Water Eaton has 1,500 car-parking spaces.

Both the Bicester Village and Islip stations along the Oxford-to-Bicester line were also re-built.

The project was initially led by Chiltern Railways, but it partnered with Network Rail which contributed £190m to improving the rail infrastructure.

Martin Frobisher, route managing director for Network Rail's London North Western route, said: "This railway upgrade will boost business and create exciting new opportunities for people in the Oxford region."

Police issue witness appeal over death

POLICE have published a list of specific witnesses they wish to speak to as part of their investigation into the death of Eamonn Anderson.

The 56-year-old, who was assaulted on his bicycle in Oxford's High Street on October 25, died in hospital on November 11.

Six people have been arrested in connection with his death.

But police say they want to speak to several witnesses who were in the area at the time of the attack as part of the continuing investigation.

Det Chief Insp Mike Lynch, of the Thames Valley Police's major crime unit, said: "Firstly, we believe that there was a couple walking along Queen Street at about 10.55pm in the direction of Bonn Square, followed by another man who was not with them.

"Another man was walking past them in the opposite direction. The victim was in the road at the time of the incident. There was also a dog running around without a lead.

"We believe that any or all of the people described could have information relating to the assault which is vital to our investigation."

Police also want to speak to another man who was on his phone at the time.

At about 11.30pm in High Street, shortly before the attack took place, the victim, followed by a group of men on foot, cycled past a man who was wearing light-coloured trousers and a hooded top with a light-coloured logo on the chest.

Iman St Clair, 18, of Kestrel Crescent, Oxford, has been charged with murder. He appeared at Oxford Crown Court on November 21 when he denied murder and was given bail until his trial on June 12.

Two men, aged 23 and 18, and three 17-year-old boys, all from Oxford, were also arrested on suspicion of murder and released on bail until January 16, 2017.

Witnesses should contact 101.

Bike theft charges

OXFORD: A man has been charged with three counts of stealing bicycles from Oxford colleges last month.

Jamie Clark, 27, of Luther Street, Oxford, is alleged to have taken the bicycles from St Catherine's College on November 17, Corpus Christi College on November 22 and St Aldate's College on November 29.

He is due to appear at Oxford Magistrates Court on December 16.

Drivers warned

BERKS: Drivers are being warned about thieves using jamming devices to prevent cars from being locked properly and then stealing from them.

A spate of incidents has seen 14 vehicles at service stations an the M4 in Berkshire being targeted and police are advising that motorists manually lock their cars.

Items such as laptops, luggage and wallets have been stolen in the incidents over the last two weeks.

Rape PC loses job

OXON: A police officer given a seven-year jail term for rape lost his job after a misconduct hearing.

PC Richard Hale, based at Bicester, was dismissed on Tuesday last week following the hearing chaired by the Chief Constable Francis Habgood.

Hale was dismissed without notice after he breached the Standards of Professional Behaviour. He was convicted on one count of rape at Oxford Crown Court on October 12.

Fare rises a 'kick in the teeth' for rail travellers

By George Welch

Passengers are facing an average 2.3% increase in fares

CAMPAIGNERS have said passengers are being "priced off" the railways after the rail industry announced train fares in Britain will go up by an average of 2.3 per cent from January 2.

The price hike covers all tickets – both regulated fares, which includes season tickets, and unregulated fares, such as off-peak leisure tickets.

The rise in regulated fares had already been capped at July's Retail Prices Index inflation rate of 1.9 per cent. Unregulated fares face no cap.

Campaign group Campaign for Better Transport responded to the announcement on Friday criticising the move, saying some customers are being "priced off the railways".

Lianna Etkind for Campaign for Better Transport, said: "With next year's regulated rail fares rising by nearly 2 per cent, with some unregulated, walk-on fares rising even further, people are now finding themselves priced off the railways.

"The train operating companies and the Government need to work closely together to provide fairer, simpler and cheaper fares making sure people are always sold the cheapest ticket available."

Between 1995 and 2016 passengers have seen average fares increase by 23.5 per cent and much more needs to be done by train operators and the Government to provide an affordable railway, the group said.

For Oxford commuters, ticket costs could include:

- Off-peak return, Oxford to London Paddington: From £25 to £25.57
- Twelve month season ticket, Oxford to London Paddington: From £4,832 to £4,920
- Off-peak return, Oxford to Birmingham New Street: From £36.60 to £37.33
- Twelve month season ticket, Oxford to Birmingham New Street: From £5,008 to £5,100

Mick Cash, general secretary of RMT, Britain's largest specialist transport union, described the hike as a "rip-off".

He said: "This latest fares hike is another kick in the teeth for British passengers and condemns them to continue to pay some of the highest fares in Europe to travel on rammed out and unreliable trains.

"Once again the rip-off private train companies are laughing all the way to the bank as they whack up fares and axe staff in all-out dash to maximise their profits."

Paul Plummer, chief executive of the Rail Delivery Group, which represents train operators and Network Rail, said: "We understand how passengers feel when fares go up, and we know that in some places they haven't always got the service they pay for.

"Fares are influenced by government policy or as a result of the payments train companies make to government."

Nine years for repeated rape

• Mudassar Hussain

AN Oxford man has been jailed for repeatedly raping a woman last year.

Mudassar Hussain, 32 formerly of Hurst Street, will spend nine years behind bars after he was found guilty on Monday last week of four counts of rape at Oxford Crown Court following a nine day trial.

He was sentenced at the same hearing to nine years for each offence to run concurrently.

The offences all took place between July 1 and November 18 last year in Oxford.

Investigating officer Det Con Julia Jacobs, of Oxford Police Station, said: "I am extremely pleased that the courage of the victim has been rewarded, justice has been served and I have great admiration for her and her close family."

A victim statement was read out in court where the victim, who cannot be named for legal reasons was described by her sister as 'delicate'.

The statement also said that the health of the victim, her sister and her parents had all been badly affected by the case.

The victim's sister added: "I hope this case will encourage other victims to come forward because seeking justice should not be seen as disrespectful or negative in any way."

Jihadi Jack parents deny terror fund

THE parents of so-called 'Jihadi Jack' have pleaded not guilty to charges of funding terrorism.

John Letts and Sally Lane are accused of sending cash to 20-year-old Jack Letts, who was suspected of joining so-called Islamic State in 2014.

The Oxford couple, of Chilswell Road, allegedly sent their son £1,723 between September 2015 and January – they denied three counts of funding terrorism at the Old Bailey.

Ms Lane is also charged with two counts of attempting to send payments of £500 on January 4, but was not asked to enter pleas.

Mr Letts, 55, and his 54-year-old wife, were released on bail and will go on trial at the same court on January 9.

The former pupil of Cherwell School told his parents he was travelling to Kuwait to study Arabic in September 2014, before secretly travelling to Syria.

He is thought to be married and living in Iraq under a different name.

Uncertain future for JET after vote

By Alex Iszatt

THE future of the Joint European Torus (JET) project at Culham is uncertain after Britain's vote to leave the EU put funding in doubt.

The world-leading laboratory has pioneered research into fusion for almost 40 years, but since the Brexit vote, the issues of freedom of movement and financing have cast a doubt over the future of the Culham Centre for Fusion Energy.

The JET project involves 350 scientists exploring the potential of fusion power. Since the referendum, five researchers have left the project to return to mainland Europe. Others are believed to be considering their positions.

JET is backed by funding from almost 40 countries in the EUROfusion consortium but membership of EUROfusion is only for those in the EU.

The British Government is yet to make clear its nuclear co-operation plans.

The day after Britain's vote to leave the EU, Tony Donné, the programme manager for EUROfusion, said: "Our British member [Culham] is a strong contributor to the European fusion programme. We will be working hard to continue the collaboration after 2018. If and how this is possible is impossible to say today."

To demolish the facility would cost an estimated £289m and, according to a JET paper from 2003, leave 3,000 cubic metres of radioactive waste at the south Oxfordshire plant.

Culham's JET experiments have used tritium, a radioactive hydrogen isotope, leaving a legacy of contamination that will take almost a century to clear.

The plasma facing walls of Culham's Tokamak are also made of Beryllium, a metal that can be toxic.

Euratom, the European atomic energy community, can enter into agreements or contracts to co-operate with third-party countries.

Eight such agreements are in place — with the US, Japan, Canada, Australia, Kazakhstan, Ukraine, Uzbekistan and South Africa — but they vary in scope.

Any third-party agreement between the UK and Euratom would not be the same as opting in for membership of the organisation.

Fundraising gathers £800 for family hit by fire

A CROWDFUNDING page has raised more than £800 for a Kidlington family whose house was destroyed in a suspected arson attack.

A five-year-old boy and a man and woman, aged 50 and 36, escaped their blazing Bassett Way home via windows at about 1.50am on November 25.

In under a week, Steve Hurd, who set up the page on behalf of his sister and brother-in-law who live in the same road, has helped raise £826 for the family, who required medical treatment but are believed to be alright after the incident.

MP blasts Immigration Service over visa refusal

DIDCOT and Wantage MP Ed Vaizey has blasted the Immigration Service for its 'unacceptable incompetence' after a Wallingford man's Chinese wife was refused a visa.

Steve Bearns, 56, lives in Wallingford with his three-year-old son, Ryan, but difficulties with his 35-year-old wife Xia Zu's visa means they are set for a Christmas apart.

The couple met in China in 2006 and married there in 2010 before moving to Oxfordshire in 2013.

• Didcot and Wantage MP, Ed Vaizey

But the UK Visa and Immigrations office refused application by Xia, who uses the English name Mary, and she returned to China in the summer of 2015.

Consequently, the couple have been sharing the care of Ryan, who was born in the UK. He now spends half the year in China and half the year in Wallingford.

Mr Bearns and his wife, who won their appeal to the Immigation Service for her to be allowed to return to her husband and son in Britain only to see the service's officials then refuse it, have now been turned down for a fast-track second appeal.

To make matters worse, the Immigration Service sent the news to the wrong MP. Instead of sending it to Mr Bearns' MP Mr Vaizey, they sent it to a Labour MP in London.

Mr Vaizey said: "The Immigration Service have handled my constituents' case disgracefully.

"They threw innumerable bureaucratic obstacles in their way; they turned down Mrs Bearns' right to live in the UK; when she won her appeal they ignored it; now they have turned down a fast-track second appeal.

"To add insult to injury, this news was not passed to me but to a London Labour MP who kindly passed it on.

"This is unacceptable incompetence from a service that should now be hanging its head in shame."

Festive fare at city market

• The stalls were a hit with shoppers at the market last year

CHRISTMAS markets have become as much part of the festive season as turkey and tinsel and today marks the start of Oxford's offering.

The city's Christmas market runs until December 18 and is set among some of the city's most historical sights on Broad Street.

The market will feature around 60 stalls selling a wide range of gifts and decorations as well as plenty of tasty fare to enjoy while you shop including German Bratwurst, churros with hot chocolate sauce and traditional Gluhwein.

Among the exhibitors will be those offering jewellery, candles, artworks, prints and ceramics and traditional decorations.

Foodies looking for the perfect gift will be spoilt for choice with cheese, chocolates, coffee, chilli sauces and even treats from the liquid deli.

Local choirs and bands will keep shoppers entertained during the 11 days and children can enjoy a ride on a Victorian carousel.

They're searching for safety. Will you light the way this Christmas?

christian aid

There are more than 65 million people displaced worldwide. Will you help light their way to safety this Christmas?

You only have to turn on the news to see the damage being inflicted by violence around the world today. 4.8 million Syrians have been forced from their country. On the Thai/Myanmar border, 100,000 people are living in camps. And in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC), 1.7 million people have been forced from their homes.

It's a humanitarian crisis on an unprecedented scale.

Families are fleeing violence and conflict

The huge numbers can be overwhelming, but behind the statistics are families who have been left with nothing. There are parents who fear for their children's lives. There are terrified children who are losing hope of a happier future. And there are women like Georgette.

You could be a beacon of hope for a family like Georgette's this Christmas.

Before Georgette had a chance to escape the violence that besieged her home in the DRC, she was taken – along with her youngest son – and held captive by a gang of men.

Mercifully, Georgette escaped and fled to Shabunda centre – where Christian Aid is providing vital support to vulnerable people just like her. Georgette was reunited with her family – but their joy was short-lived. With no possessions and no means of earning a living, they urgently needed help.

In these dark times, you can help us light the way

Helping families displaced by violence was the reason Christian Aid was founded, and helping people – whatever their beliefs – who are struggling remains at the heart of everything we do. This Christmas, with the help of our wonderful supporters and partner organisations, we'll be working to bring light where there is darkness – delivering life-changing assistance to those who need it most. By providing families like Georgette's with clothes and hygiene kits, we can give comfort in the short term – and with seeds, tools and income support, we can help them to rebuild their lives and light the way to a brighter future.

65 million people displaced around the world

You can be a beacon of hope this Christmas

As we celebrate the birth of Jesus this Christmas time, we're calling out to people across the UK to remember the millions of children, mothers and fathers currently fleeing from conflict, who are less fortunate than ourselves.

Christian Aid can only continue to reach those most in need with the support of people like you.

So please, send a Christmas gift today – you can be the one to light the way towards a brighter future.

Recipes to help cut food waste attract retailer's attention

By Samantha McGregor

AN Oxfordshire business that creates chutneys, relishes and sauces from fruit and vegetables that would otherwise go to waste, has partnered with a major retailer.

Wonky Fruit was set up by brother and sister, Ashley and John Cavers, in bid to try and reduce food waste.

They enlisted the help of local caterer Laura Snook to create Wonky recipes, including Chilli tomato relish, tangy onion chutney and spiced apple jelly.

Now their products will be sold in all of Oxfordshire's Midcounties Co-operative stores following a successful six-month trial.

And that's not the only thing the siblings have been celebrating.

The pair won Bicester's first Oxfordshire SOUP, a live crowdfunding-meets-Dragon's Den event sponsored by Bicester Innovation Centre.

They plan to use the £1,600 prize money to help rebrand to the Wonky Food Company, which will launch early next year. The pair will also get support with marketing and mentoring.

Mr Cavers said: "We have been working closely with The Midcounties Co-operative's local food team who have advised that our rebrand will help make us stand out in addition to reflecting that we create recipes from vegetables as well as fruit."

• Wonky Fruit win Oxfordshire SOUP at Bicester School. From left: Alison Rosier (The Bicester School), John Cavers (Wonky Fruit), Laura Snook (Wonky Fruit), Ashley Cavers (Wonky Fruit), Tina Marshall (Creating Sense), Tom Hanney (Oxford Innovation)

He said the support from Oxfordshire SOUP will help the siblings take their business to the next level.

Tom Hanney, Oxfordshire SOUP judge and Centre Manager, at Bicester and Cherwell Innovation Centres, said: "The audience and judges were extremely impressed by the concept and the Wonky Fruit team.

"The business clearly has lots of potential and will help provide a solution for food waste in Oxfordshire and across the UK."

Matt Fletcher, who heads up the Direct Sourcing Team at The Midcounties Co-operative, said the partnership had started when the retailer donated its unsold fruit.

He said: "We saw an opportunity to build on this partnership and help the team create a new brand that we could eventually stock on our shelves.

"We're looking forward to introducing the first batch of the newly rebranded Wonky Food Company products to our Chipping Norton store in the New Year."

Hospital unit gets £2.7m makeover

A DAY medical unit at Banbury's Horton Hospital has been given a £2.7m overhaul.

Last month, Dame Fiona Caldicott, chairman of Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, cut the ribbon to officially re-open the newly refurbished Endoscopy Unit at the Oxford Road hospital.

The unit is used by about 5,000 patients each year from across North Oxfordshire.

It was shut while the refurbishment was carried out and patients had to travel to hospitals in Oxford for the procedure.

Work included creating separate areas for male and female patients and installing state-of-the-art decontamination equipment.

Dame Fiona said: "The new unit will greatly improve the experience for patients with much better privacy and more modern facilities."

Sue Kershaw, Sister in charge of Endoscopy at the Horton, said: "I think this is a really good facility for the Horton and for local people.

"We now have an up-to-date department – it is an immense improvement. Staff are happier, patients are happier – it's a very nice place to come and work."

About 20 staff are based in the Endoscopy Unit.

Budding authors

OXON: Budding writers from across the county are being urged to put pen to paper and enter a short story writers contest.

Run by Oxfordshire County Council's Library Service, there are separate categories for adults and young adults, aged 11 to 17.

The winning entries will be published as eBooks for library members to borrow.

The deadline for entries is January 4, 2017. For more information go to oxfordshire.gov.uk

Hospital survey

OXON: Young people are being asked to give their view on the care they received by Oxford University Hospital Trust while in any of the county's hospitals.

Part of a national NHS patient survey programme the aim is to highlight areas that are good and those that need improving.

They will be asked about all aspects of care, the information they received and the hospital environment. Parents' views will also be sought.

Still too many homeless despite fall in numbers

By George Welch

DESPITE the drop in the number of homeless people on the streets of Oxford, councillors say they are still concerned about those forced to sleep rough.

Latest figures released by Oxford City Council have revealed there are 33 people out on the streets and at least 47 people sleeping rough on any given night.

A city council spokesperson said rough sleeping "continues to be a serious challenge".

The street count in Oxford at the beginning of November found 33 people rough sleeping, down from 39 in 2015 when there had been a 50 per cent rise on 2014.

However, the council and homeless organisations estimate at least 47 people could be sleeping rough on any given night. This figure is down from 56 in 2015.

Councillor Mike Rowley, Oxford city board member for housing, said: "We remain concerned with street homelessness in the city, even though the number of rough sleepers counted on the particular night has declined compared to last year.

"We applaud the good work and support offered by the many organisations within the sector to some of the most vulnerable people in our city.

"However, rough sleeping is a big issue in Oxford and we want to continue to support the organisations that make a difference."

But Cllr Rowley said the city council is "increasingly concerned" about county-wide cuts, which have seen support service budgets cut by £1.5m (60 per cent) by Oxfordshire County Council.

As a result, homeless shelters Simon House and Julian Housing will be 'decommissioned' by April 2018, meaning about 200 beds will be lost.

All six councils across the county and the Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group have chipped in to commit nearly £3m over a three-year period to support single homeless people across Oxfordshire.

SODC and the Vale are to invest more than £215,000 to support those at risk. The funding will provide 26 supported beds for the district's most vulnerable residents for the next three years. But Cllr Rowley said he does not think that is enough.

He added: "The bottom line is that there will be less money available from April 1 due to the cuts and this means fewer beds for homeless people in the city and across the county."

Oxford City Councillor Craig Simmons has called on the council to provide shelter through council reserve funding pots and that about £800,000 could be made available.

The city council said it has invested £5 million, with another £5 million in match funding from homeless property fund Resonance Ltd, for a Real Lettings scheme that will offer homes with low rents for people in housing need. Five of these homes will be specifically designated to people who are moving from homeless hostels or supported accommodation in the city.

Thousands face Christmas on the streets

CHARITY Shelter, which is celebrating its 50th anniversary, revealed figures showing more than 250,000 people are homeless in England.

The stats from 2015 claim one in 419 people in Oxford are homeless. Of the 68 local authorities in the South East region, South Oxfordshire District Council, Vale of White Horse District Council and West Oxfordshire District Council were among the boroughs with the fewest rough sleepers in 2015.

The Vale performed best with five rough sleepers and 12 in temporary accommodation, meaning one in 7,435 people in 2015 were homeless.

Charity chief executive Campbell Robb said: "Shelter's founding shone a light on hidden homelessness in the 1960s slums. But while those troubled times have faded into memory, 50 years on a modern-day housing crisis is tightening its grip on our country. Hundreds of thousands of people will face the trauma of waking up homeless this Christmas.

"Decades in the making, this is the tragic result of a nation struggling under the weight of sky-high rents, a lack of affordable homes and cuts to welfare support."

Mum raises £290 for childhood cancer charity on a 10-mile run

By George Welch

A MUM of two has raised £290 for the Oxfordshire Guardian's charity of the year by running 10 miles for a fundraising challenge.

Jessica Memery, 35, from Portsmouth took part in The Great South Run last month to raise money and awareness of Blue Skye Thinking, a charity close to her heart.

The charity was set up in memory of five-year-old Skye Hall, from Oxford, who died in 2014 from side effects of his treatment for Medulloblastoma, an aggressive and cancerous brain tumour.

She said: "I had a great day and it was wonderful to do something so special for Skye.

"My favourite part of the race was feeling part of something that matters, so many people running for something or someone, it felt like a privilege to be involved.

"The atmosphere on the day was fantastic too. My least favourite part however was between mile eight and mile nine when the sun was beating down, no breeze to speak of and the end seemed so close, yet so far.

"I would happily fundraise for Blue Skye Thinking again or support the charity in an alternative way as the work they do is so vital to changing the landscape of how we treat children with cancer.

"I have over 10 years of experience in the charitable sector so I would love to do more if I can."

Money raised by Jessica will go towards the charity's 'Aim Skye High Appeal', which aims to raise £50,000 towards a three year Post Doctoral research position at the renowned Northern Institute for Cancer Research.

To support the appeal, visit http://tinyurl.com/hgpvzyr, or text UPUP52 £3 to 70070

To plan your own 'Skye High' fundraising event, email: aimskyehigh@blueskythinking.org and the charity will send a fundraising pack.

Pupils honoured in police force's online safety competition

A 17-YEAR-OLD has been chosen as the winner of a Thames Valley Police competition giving advice to young people on how to stay safe online.

Abbie Head, an A-level student from Aylesbury, caught the eye of judges with her colourful Manga-style design to become the winner of the #ProtectYourWord Online Safety Competition.

A group of four Year 8 students – Rose, Lottie, Josie and Marina – from St Helen and St Katharine School, Abingdon, are the runners-up, with a video produced and starring themselves warning people to be careful about information they share online.

Thames Valley Police's Chief Constable Francis Habgood met the winner and runners-up to present them with their prizes, an iPad Mini 2 and Chromebook. The prizes were donated by RM Education, based at Milton Park, near Didcot, which specialises in software and ICT solutions for schools.

The contest was organised as part of Thames Valley Police's #ProtectYourWorld – stay safe online campaign, which ran in September to raise awareness about cyber crime and the steps people and businesses can take to protect themselves from becoming victims.

St Helen and St Katharine School art teacher Hannah McCague submitted the runners-up video entry on behalf of her pupils. She said: "They came up with the idea themselves and ran with it. They took a lot of time shooting the video in different locations and using various props. We're very proud of them all."

Chief Con Habgood said: "The judges included officers and staff who specialise in dealing with online crime and they were very impressed with the high standard of all the entries to the competition. Thank you to all the young people who took the time to take part, Thames Valley Police is very grateful and we have enjoyed seeing your ideas."

Multi-storey site reopens to offer festive parking

By Samantha McGregor

THE site of a multi-storey car park demolished after "significant structural issues" were found has re-opened to provide Christmas shoppers with more than 140 temporary parking spaces.

The Bolton Road car park closed in June with the loss of 620 town centre car-parking spaces after the problems were identified.

But, last week, the site re-opened with 142 parking spaces.

Cherwell District Council said at the time it had "no option" but to close the carpark with "immediate effect" because of "health and safety implications" from the structural inspection.

The council appointed Armac Group to carry out the work and the demolition started in August.

Cllr George Reynolds, Cherwell's deputy leader, said: "This work had not been planned; it came about following an inspector's report which identified serious issues and due to plans to regenerate the site in the future, it was agreed not to invest money repairing a structure which would later be demolished.

"Throughout this project, we have had two key priorities; to minimise disruption and reopen in time to support traders during the festive period.

"Armac Group, who carried out this work, has done a fantastic job in demolishing, clearing and resurfacing this site within a very tight timeframe."

He added: "As well as being able to provide parking over the Christmas period, we were also able to use this car park in the Small Business Saturday free parking promotion, with shoppers in easy walking distance of many of the independent traders in Banbury's fantastic old town."

The car park comprises 135 spaces plus an additional seven designated Blue Badge bays.

Drivers can use the car park for short- or long-stay visits with charging periods between 8am and 7pm. The car park has been equipped with ticket machines, lighting and repainted with new white-lined parking bays.

Bolton Road is identified within Cherwell's Local Plan as a key site for development to potentially incorporate opportunities for a hotel, housing, retail and restaurant units. These plans would have involved the future demolition of the multi-storey once the project moved forward.

Rubble from the former multi-storey building has been recycled and used to form part of the infrastructure at the nearby Longford Park housing development in Bodicote.

Towns lit up for Christmas

CHRISTMAS lights have been switched on in Oxfordshire towns.

Life-long charity fundraiser 88-year-old Kathleen Davis took pride of place at the Banbury switch-on.

Supported by former staff of the town's Horton Hospital and watched by a crowd of more than 2,000, she pressed the button to light up the town's streets.

Mrs Davis has raised thousands of pounds for charities including Katherine House Hospice at Adderbury, Bodicote Scouts, Multiple Sclerosis Society and Bodicote WI.

Mrs Davis said: "I can't believe I've been asked to switch on the Christmas Lights. It's a real honour. Thank you, Banbury."

In Bicester, mayor Jolanta Lis turned on the festive lights with the help of three children, who won a place on the stage after taking part in Bicester Town Council's snowflake competition.

In Thame, the big switch-on took place on Friday. The town came alive with stilt walkers, entertainer Colonel Custard, Morris dancers and festive stalls.

Just before the lights were switched-on school children took part in a lantern parade, then Thame mayor Linda Emery, town Santa trail winner Holly Stafford, eight, Father Christmas and panto-star Aladdin pushed the plunger to light up the town.

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

ENTERTAINMENT & LISTINGS

Classical tunes with Blake

By James Richings

FOR nearly a decade, classical crossover band Blake have achieved great success.

Ollie Baines, Stephen Bowman and Humphrey Bernie have released six studio albums with their seventh due to be completed next year.

They have toured all over the world, performed with music legends such as Shirley Bassey and have played concerts in such prestigious venues as Buckingham Palace.

And with the three friends stopping off at Henley's Kenton Theatre this Saturday, December 10 as part of their 'Christmas with Blake' show, surely this can't be a show to miss.

The trio are on their final stretch of shows for 2016, with six more concerts to fulfil after their Henley visit.

"We actually formed via Facebook back in 2007 then had an audition with Universal Records which got us started on our decade journey to today," Stephen told the Guardian.

"When we formed, the best advice we've ever had was this simple line "you've got to be in it to win it".

"Basically, most artists give up before they make success for themselves. You need patience."

Named after the famous poet William Blake, the group are no strangers to performing in Oxfordshire.

Frequent shows at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot and at Henley's Kenton Theatre over the last few years have made the trio regulars within the county.

Their most recent visit to the town was in the summer when they headlined at the Henley Festival, which saw them attract one of the biggest crowds at the event.

The trio's goal is to get the Henley faithful in the mood for Christmas, as Ollie, Stephen and Humphrey will perform a number of popular festive songs – current tunes and hits from yesteryear with a classical twist.

"There will never be a substitute for live music even with the digital age advancing so fast with streaming and VR concerts," Stephen said.

"The genuine analogue visceral thrill of seeing a performer just metres away from you, singing their heart out, will always be the driving catalyst for the next generation of musicians."

• Stephen Bowman

Stephen also had some advice for any aspiring singer/musician.

"Get out and perform as much as you can, starting with guest slots at any concerts who will take you.

"Getting experience on real stages in front of real people is key.

"Also, get used to videoing your performances at home and when you're in front of audiences, watch them back, see how you come across and learn from each gig.

"Self analysis is really useful for performers, but many are scared of it."

The concert will start at 7.30pm and tickets cost £19.

Unearth Clay in The Cellar

IF you haven't popped down to The Cellar for a while, make sure you visit it this Sunday

Leeds based indie band Clay are making their debut performance in the city at the Frewin Court venue.

Made up of brothers Joe (vocals) and Jack Harvey (guitar), Rob Gration (bass) and Danny Armitage (drums), the group are currently on their second tour of the UK, but admitted that they 'have neglected the south a little bit'.

Jack hopes to rectify this with a five star show this weekend where they'll perform recent releases including their most popular track, '6AM'.

"This will be our first time in Oxford so we're massively excited about it," Jack said.

"We've perhaps neglected the south a little bit as this is only our second ever headline tour, but we've had massive demand from Oxford so had to make it happen. The show is going to be insane."

Jack added: "Getting noticed in the music industry is easy providing you have good songs, so we don't really get too bogged down with 'getting noticed' as long as the fans love it.

"If they do the rest will follow as forming a group is the hard part.

"Finding people on your wavelength who have the same stylistic vision as you and commitment to pursue it, is quite rare. Once you find it, that's very special."

Tickets cost £7.70 and it starts at 7.30pm.

Adam can't help clowning around

By James Richings

AUSTRALIAN comic Adam Hills will be in Oxford this Saturday as part of his UK tour 'Clown Heart'.

His visit to the George Street venue will be the farewell to his tour which began at the end of last year, and has taken him to venues all over the country.

And with this being one of the 46-year-old's most successful tours to date, 'The Last Leg' presenter hopes he can finish his run of shows on a high.

His previous tour, 'Happyism' ran throughout 2013 and 2014.

"During the last tour, I had a pre-show ritual of going tenpin bowling every night," he said.

"But when I was in Barnstaple, I didn't have time before the show so I decided to take the audience bowling afterwards.

"So at the end of the show, I took 240 people – about half the audience – along to the bowling alley where we also did karaoke, the arcades and air hockey.

"We stayed there until one in the morning.

"As I left, there was a couple in their late 40s still playing air hockey and just giggling.

"So when you're touring, you can trudge through stuff and it's great to have a moment of pure spontaneity like that.

"Each show should be an event rather than a guy just talking for an hour."

Famous both in the UK and his native Australia, the comic is on the verge of completing his 16th solo tour since making his stand-up debut 27-years ago and following his popularity on stage, Adam has also moved into different fields.

Most notably the comedian is also a television presenter and hosts 'The Last Leg' with fellow comedians Josh Widdicombe and Alex Brooker.

But for Adam, stand-up is his number one priority.

"I love the freedom of live comedy," he said.

"I have 60 minutes of material, but each show lasts 90 minutes and every night I try and improvise 30 minutes based on who is in the crowd.

"Otherwise, I'd get bored doing the same show over and over again."

Adam, was also born with just one foot and uses his disability to his advantage, mentioning his missing limb in a number of his acts.

"I remember saying to the audience once, 'Oh no, I have left my spare prosthetic leg in the dressing room and if the police see that in the corner of the room, they'll think, 'we're too late – the bomb's already gone off!'"

The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £38.90.

Snowflakes set to warm up city in a festive treat

By James Richings

EVERY year brings hope of a white Christmas which more often than not never arrives.

But this year could be different as, 'Snowflakes' is heading to the Oxford Playhouse from today, Thursday, December 8 to New Year's Eve.

Written by CBeebies presenter, children's author and disabilities campaigner Cerrie Burnell, the show tells of a young girl called Mia who has gone to live with her grandma, a considerable distance away from where she was born.

When she arrives at her grandma's house, Mia realises it isn't at all like her old life in the city and becomes worried, scared and homesick.

At first she feels very different from the new children she sees, but when she watches the snow falling around her one night, Mia realises that she is just like one of the snowflakes – unique and perfect in her own way.

Actress Nazerene Williams, who plays in the lead role of Mia, believes the play will be a big hit with the Beaumont Street crowd.

"This show that is coming to Oxford is a warm reassuring story about new beginnings and new friends," she told the Guardian.

"The play is about everyone wanting to make friends as everyone wants to love, be loved, and everyone wants to belong."

There will be a total of 47 performances when, 'Snowflakes' arrives in the city, with only the Playhouse's pantomime (Cinderella) having a longer run at the theatre – a large number of performances at the Beaumont Street theatre are already sold out.

Made up of Nazerene Williams, Kate Winder as her grandmother and Antony Antunes as Milo, the production has been directed by the respected Tina Williams, who is also the Pied Piper Theatre Company's artistic director.

The play will also having puppets which have been created by puppet maker Nick Ash.

"This tale is full of wonder, promoting the beauty, power and joy in everyone," actress Kate said.

"This is literally a perfect treat and first theatre experience for little ones."

Antony added: "This is a magical show so it is very important for children to go and watch live theatre.

"We live in a world where many children sit in front of TV or computer screens, and live theatre is a totally different experience."

He then added: "I absolutely love that great feeling of an audience appreciating a production after so much work goes into it!"

All the tickets cost £8 and the play is suitable for children aged between three and six.

Craig's Oxford Party

LIVE MUSIC: Craig Charles will be heading to the O2 Academy next Friday, December 16.

The DJ, who is also a poet, actor and comedian, comes to the Cowley Road venue to perform some of the biggest funk and soul tunes of all time.

The 52-year-old gigged at the O2 Academy a year ago to a sell-out crowd.

Suitable for over 18s, tickets cost £19.12 and it will start at 10pm.

The Chase is on in Cowley

LIVE MUSIC: Rock musician Rick Chase will be arriving at The Cricketers Arms in Cowley on Saturday, December 17.

The performer comes to the Temple Road pub to perform tunes by the likes of Queen, Bryan Adams, Gary Moore, Phil Lynott, Status Quo and many more.

It's a repeat performance at the pub for Chase. The gig is free and it starts at 9pm.

Pirates plunder O2

LIVE MUSIC: Local band Peerless Pirates will be gigging at the O2 Academy next Friday, December 16.

The group, who are made up of Cliff Adams, Kyle Mundy, Stu Green and Barry Short will showcase a number of tunes off their self-titled album.

The group performed at the city's first Common People Festival in May.

Tickets cost £9.05 and the doors open at 6.30pm

Tenants have benefitted from below-inflation rent rises over recent years

Bill Cooper, co-author of The Oxford Property Blog and managing director of Martin and Co, Oxford

Back in the spring, there was a surge in Oxford landlords buying buy-to-let property in Oxford as they tried to beat George Osborne's new stamp duty changes which kicked in on April 1, 2016. To give you an idea of the sort of numbers we are talking about, below are the property statistics for sales either side of the deadline in OX2.

Jan 2016 – 42 properties sold

Feb 2016 – 27 properties sold

March 2016 – 91 properties sold

April 2016 – 19 properties sold

May 2016 – 23 properties sold.

Normally, the number of sales in the spring months is very similar, irrespective of the month. However, as one can see, this year was a completely different picture as landlords moved their purchases forward to beat the stamp duty increase. You would think that even with a basic knowledge of supply and demand economics, rents would be affected in a downwards direction?

However, there appears to be no apparent effect on the levels of rent being asked in Oxford - and, more importantly, achieved - and this direction of rents is not likely to reverse any time soon, particularly as legislation planned for 2017 might reduce rental stock and push property values higher. The decline of buy-to-let mortgage interest tax relief will make some properties loss making, forcing landlords to pass on costs to tenants in the form of higher rents just to stay afloat. Even those who can still operate may be deterred from making further investments, limiting the growth in available rental stock at a time of severe property shortage.

But it's not all bad news for tenants. Whilst average rents in Oxford since 2005 have increased by 22.6%, inflation has been 38.5% over the same time frame, meaning Oxford tenants are 15.9% better off in real terms when it comes to their rent (which is a sizeable chunk of most people's monthly household budgets).

I found it particularly interesting looking at the rent rises over the last five years in Oxford, as it was five years ago we started to see the very early green shoots of growth of the Oxford economy. Following the credit crunch (2011), rents in Oxford have risen by an average of 2.4% a year – fascinating don't you think?

The view I am trying to portray is that while renting is often portrayed as the unfavourable alternative to home ownership, many young Oxford professionals like renting as it gives them flexibility in their life. Overall, tenants have had a good deal with below inflation increases in rents over recent years. As Government policy targets landlords financially, it is likely that there will be a period of higher rent increases across Oxford, as landlords offset the additional costs being imposed on them. The data suggests a small rebalancing between tenants and landlords is overdue, and can be accommodated without driving rent above the medium-term inflation trend.

Buyers urged to get pre-approved in search for perfect home

In many areas, competition for each property on the market is extremely strong, so standing out from the crowd is a must for buyers who wish to secure their dream home.

National estate agents Leaders has an average of 10 buyers for each available property, meaning serious buyers must be able to present themselves as attractively as possible to both sellers and agents.

One key way to achieve this is to get pre-approved, which means being qualified by a mortgage lender prior to starting the search for a place to live.

Kevin Shaw, national sales director at Leaders, says: "A pre-approval is incredibly important as it means a mortgage provider has analysed a person's credit history and credit score and given the green light to them borrowing a specific amount.'

"Essentially, it demonstrates that a buyer can afford the amount required to buy a home, meaning they are less likely to pull out of a purchase as a result of being unable to raise the funds. This makes pre-approved buyers extremely attractive to sellers.

"It also works in favour of buyers themselves who are able to find out for certain what they can borrow before they start searching for a property, providing them with greater confidence and ultimately allowing them to move faster."

Pre-approval is one of a number of steps that shows sellers and estate agents a buyer is committed to purchasing a home

Buyers should consider the four Cs that will help them to work out their borrowing potential:

- Capacity: A person's current and future ability to make mortgage payments
- Capital or cash reserves: Money, savings and investments that can be used for a deposit
- Collateral: The home, or type of home, that a buyer would like to purchase
- Credit: A history of paying bills and other debts on time.

Kevin adds: "Many buyers overestimate the deposit they need to purchase a home and underestimate the amount they may be able to borrow. As such, talking to an expert is the ideal starting point in any search."

For independent, expert advice on mortgages, Leaders is pleased to be partnering with the award-winning Mortgage Advice Bureau (MAB). Their knowledgeable local advisers can search over 11,000 different mortgages from a selection of 90 different lenders to take the hassle and stress out of finding the right mortgage for you. New Mazda CX-5 towers over crossover rivals

By Anthony Yates

I LIKE Mazda because they produce a decent car for the right money without skimping on quality or equipment.

But I also like Mazda because they pretty much give you everything you will ever need. Look at the MX-5 as a perfect example. It's still one of the best two-seater sports cars you can buy for around the same price as a decent family hatchback.

Then there is the CX-3 which for me is still one of my favourite cars of 2016. And then, in front of you now is the Mazda CX-5. which is an even greater machine and 'frankly staggering' – and one of the main reasons why I think it's the best crossover currently on the market.

Power and Efficiency:

Under the bonnet, you will find a 2.2-litre turbo-diesel, four-cylinder in line, DOHC 16 valve engine that has 150ps at 4,500rpm and 380Nm of torque. Add in a 0-62 time of just over nine seconds and a top speed of about 126mph and you will start to see that what I am saying makes perfect sense.

Also, just because it has a big 2.2-litre engine doesn't mean you will need to visit the pumps every few miles either because the CX-5 can easily achieve 55mpg. Plus, it also has a CO^2 rating of 119g/km so that will save you a few extra pounds too.

On the road:

The CX-5 feels planted and handles brilliantly into the corners. The steering is also very accurate and gives you great feedback, while the suspension also manages to soak up all the bumps and potholes with ease.

There was also very little body roll which was yet another sign of the chassis doing an excellent job of keeping everything under control. Of course, most crossovers also need to have the ability to do a mix of road and track – and I am happy to say that the CX-5 manages to pull that off brilliantly too.

Design & Technology:

Some of the standard features you will find come in the form of 17" alloy wheels, Halogen headlights and daytime running lights, front and rear parking sensors, 40/20/40 fold-flat rear seats, dusk-sensing lights, rain-sensing front wipers, cruise control, dual-zone climate control, air-conditioning, 7" colour touch-screen display and Multi-media Commander & Internet app integration for Internet radio, DAB radio with six speakers, navigation system, driver and passenger front side and curtain airbags, dynamic stability control and traction control with system hill hold, power tilt-and-slide sunroof, black leather seat trim with eight-way power adjustable driver's seat with memory, six-way power adjustable front passenger seat and heated front seats.

To sum up:

The CX-5 really is a brilliant car which also happens to be one of the best looking too. Mazda really has done a fantastic job here and the new CX-5 is now well above any of its rivals and the only crossover you need to be thinking about buying.

Price: £27,265 (as tested).

WINTER SAFETY CHECK

AT JOHNSONS OF OXFORD

FROM £54.99

With the dark nights upon us and the sudden drop in temperature that comes with it, driving conditions can become more challenging with vehicle handling and stability dramatically affected.

Did you know that wheel alignment issues can cause off-centre steering wheel position, loose steering control, premature tyre wear and a decrease in fuel economy?

WHAT'S INCLUDED?

All of your checks will be carried out by our experienced manufacturer-trained technicians in Johnsons state-of-the-art workshops, for that added peace of mind.

- Vehicle health check
- Check and adjust wheel alignment
- Wiper blade condition check
- Anti-freeze level and condition check
- Battery charging system and condition check
- Fluid level inspection
- Tyre wear and pressure check
- Light operations test
- Free wash & vac

Wheatley CAR CENTRE

Is your car 2013 or newer? If so, you will need the correct gas.

As of the 7th September 2016 we are able to offer R1234yf refrigerant re-gassing, or a car air-con recharge as sometimes known at our Wheatley Car Centre Branch.

This gas is compulsory for new cars from 2013 all be it has been around since 2010, although some manufacturers are still refusing to use this, notably Mercedes who are not happy with the flammable nature of the gas, which in turn means not many companies offer the re-gassing service for cars using r1234yf. But due to the amount of cars we sell we have needed to be able have this service onsite so we can now offer this service to our customers.

A common question is why the old, r134a gas found in most cars today, is being replaced?

It's driven by environmental concerns as the new gas is more environmentally friendly.

So, for ALL your re-gas and service needs please contact our Wheatley Car Centre Service Department, tel. 01865 874046 opt 2 • www.wheatleycarcentre.co.uk

Public Notice

CO-OPERATIVE AND COMMUNITY BENEFIT SOCIETIES ACT 2014
Notice of Cancellation pursuant to section 5 of the Act

Notice is hereby given that the Authority has, pursuant to the Co-operative and Community Benefit Societies Act 2014, this day cancelled the registration of Headington Royal British Legion Club Limited (Register No. 17202 R) the registered office of which is at Edgecombe Road Headington Oxford OX3 9HA. The grounds of the cancellation are that the society has wilfully violated section 89 of the Co-operative and Community Benefit Societies Act 2014 by not submitting to the Authority any annual returns acceptable for filing since that submitted for the society's financial year ending 31 December 2012.
The society ceases to enjoy the privileges of a registered society, but without prejudice to any liability incurred by the society, which may be enforced against it as if such cancellation had not taken place.

Bottas emerges as possible to replace Rosberg at Mercedes

By Adam Flinn

VALTTERI Bottas has emerged as one of the leading candidates to replace 2016 world champion Nico Rosberg at Mercedes for next year.

The Williams driver is one of a number of options being considered by Brackley-based Mercedes following the shock departure of its driver of seven years.

Rosberg stunned the world of Formula One when he announced his retirement last Friday, less than a week after securing this year's world title at the Abu Dhabi Grand Prix.

It means the constructors' champions are desperately seeking a team-mate for past champion Lewis Hamilton, with pre-season testing set to begin in February.

Bottas is thought to be one of the most likely candidates to fill the seat, having had four years of experience at Williams, three of those with the Mercedes engine.

The Finn is contracted to the Grove-based squad for 2017, but his management team has links to Mercedes chief Toto Wolff, and it is thought a deal could be struck over Williams' engine supply. Also in the running is Manor driver Pascal Wehrlein, who is also one of Mercedes' junior drivers.

He showed flashes of speed in his first season in 2016, scoring Manor's only point at the Austrian Grand Prix in July.

However, his relative inexperience might prove to be a factor, likewise with fellow 2016 Manor racer and Mercedes junior driver, Esteban Ocon.

The alternative for Mercedes could be to try and tempt one of the big-name drivers, such as Fernando Alonso or Sebastian Vettel, out of their current contracts.

Speaking to Gazetta dello Sport, Wolff said: "We have three roads that we can follow.

"The first is to think about having a number one and a number two, the second school of thought is to make use of our junior drivers, and then the third path is to go on the market for a top driver.

"The third path I mentioned is the one I like least."

Mercedes have not yet said when they expect to make a decision.

Hedman's wait for Lakeside big title continues

OXFORDSHIRE darts ace Deta Hedman's wait for a major title on the Lakeside stage goes on after she lost in the final of the World Masters on Sunday.

The 57-year-old was beaten 5-2 by former Wantage resident Trina Gulliver in a rematch of the World Championship finals held at the same venue in January.

Missed doubles proved to be the difference in the match, with two-time Masters champion Hedman performing slightly better in scoring than Gulliver.

In two of the first three legs, Hedman had darts to win the game, but Gulliver made no mistakes and was quickly 3-0 ahead in the first-to-five match.

Hedman pulled one back in the fourth after checking out 16, but her only 180 of the match in the fifth was not enough to prevent Gulliver from going within one of victory.

But despite winning leg six, Hedman was powerless to prevent Gulliver taking the title with a 72 outshot – the biggest of the match.

It means that Hedman has now been beaten in three World Championship finals, one World Trophy final and one Masters final on the Lakeside stage in Surrey in the last five years.

Pepperell misses cut as new tour starts in South Africa

EDDIE Pepperell made a disastrous start to the 2017 European Tour as he missed the cut at the Alfred Dunhill Championship in South Africa last week.

The Frilford Heath Club member fired successive rounds of +2 to leave him +4 overall at the season's opener, which was won on home soil by South African Brandon Stone.

The Abingdon golfer was in action just two weeks after saving his European Tour card at Qualifying School in Spain.

He made an encouraging start on the Leopard Creek County Club course when he birdied the first and eighth holes. But the 25-year-old double bogeyed holes 10 and 11 before birdieing the 14th to finish round one on +2.

The same holes once again proved problematic for Pepperell in round two, this time bogeying the par fours.

Despite birdies on four, 15 and 17, another double bogey – this time on hole seven – meant he carded another +2 and was cut too far adrift of the chasing pack.

After missing seven cuts in his eight tournaments prior to Q School, Pepperell will be hoping 2017 will bring an end to his losing form. He will not be playing in the UBS Hong Kong Open this week.

Stars lose more ground on the league leaders

OXFORD City Stars have fallen eight points behind the NIHL Division 1 South leaders Chelmsford Chieftains after losing at the Essex club for the second time in as many weeks on Sunday.

The previous week Chieftains took maximum points after an emphatic 8-3 victory.

And this week Oxford once again slipped to defeat, but the determined Stars pushed the Chieftains all the way in an enthralling game that ended with a narrow 2-1 scoreline in favour of the defending league champions.

Oxford began the weekend clinging on to second place – by the end of it they had slipped to fourth.

From face-off it was end-to-end action with both sides forcing the netminders into some solid stops. But Oxford failed to break their hosts down and slipped to their fourth successive defeat.

The Stars travel to second place Invicta Dynamos, who have two games in hand on Oxford, on Sunday.

Nominees revealed for 2016 Oxfordshire Sports Awards

THE nominations for the 11th annual Oxfordshire Sports Awards have been announced ahead of January's award ceremony.

After receiving a record number of nominations across 14 categories, Oxfordshire Sport and Physical Activity has announced the 42 nominees ahead of the awards ceremony at Oxford United's Kassam Stadium on Friday, January 27.

The Awards incorporate nominations from across Oxfordshire, raising the profile of sport and physical activity and creating a unified celebration of sporting excellence

Oxfordshire Sport and Physical Activity said: "Oxfordshire has a huge amount of sporting talent and Oxfordshire Sport and Physical Activity is honoured to be able to see these athletes, coaches, volunteers and unsung heroes receive the recognition they deserve."

Winning run derailed by lowly Yate Town

A double from Ben Whitehead, pictured in 2014-15, could not prevent Didcot Town's winning run come to an end (Picture by Roger Neal)

DIDCOT Town let slip a half time lead to lose 3-2 at Yate Town to put an end to their five match winning league run on Saturday.

The Railwaymen started sluggishly but looked in command when they overturned an early deficit to lead 2-1, but a superb second half comeback secured all three points for Yate.

The home side rushed to an early lead when Jack Ball pounced on a defensive lapse to slide the ball into an empty net.

Not long after, Didcot capitalised on a Yate mistake of their own as Ben Whitehead tackled Bluebells' keeper Harvey Rivers to slot the ball into an empty net.

And Didcot took the lead before half time when an excellently weighted ball over the top by Sam Elkins found Whitehead, who was brought down in the area.

Diddy's top scorer took responsibility from the spot and converted into the bottom right corner from 12-yards.

Behind at the break, Yate made tactical changes at the interval and it did not take long to level the scores.

Kyle Thomas raced clear beyond the languishing Didcot defence to crash the ball beyond Leigh Bedwell to draw Yate level.

Didcot were having more possession but it was the hosts who were looking more dangerous and it did not come as too much of a surprise when Town fell behind 20 minutes from time.

From a corner, an unmarked Ball nodded home for his brace and Man of Match award.

Thomas could have grabbed a brace of his own, but his chip rebounded off the foot of the post.

His miss nearly proved costly as Didcot pressed in search of an equaliser.

By the end, the Bluebells were hanging on and were grateful for Rivers, who pulled off a superb point blank save to deny James Organ a headed equaliser in injury time.

North Leigh throw away 3-0 lead to draw with table-toppers Hereford in fog-hit game

NORTH Leigh squandered a 3-0 half time lead to draw 3-3 at home with runaway Evo-Stik Southern League Division 1 South & West leaders Hereford.

Both teams were reduced to 10 men as Leigh's Stuart Hole and Hereford's Pablo Haysham, a former Didcot Town striker, received their marching orders in the second half.

A Bradley Gray strike sandwiched by a James Murphy brace rewarded a superb first half performance from the Millers to put John Brough's side well in control.

But undefeated Hereford hit back after the break when all had appeared lost at half time.

Midfielder Tristan Plummer pulled a goal back for the visitors before both sides were reduced to 10 men when Haysham and Hole saw red.

Mike Symons made it 3-2, before another former Didcot striker, John Mills, scored to complete the remarkable comeback.

The Millers, who will see the draw as two points lost, climbed to seventh in the table, just four points off the play offs.

The west Oxfordshire side travel to South Park in FA Trophy action on Saturday.

Hereford now sit 10 points clear of Tiverton Town at the top of the table and return to Oxfordshire again on Saturday as they visit relegation threatened Wantage.

The Bulls remain unbeaten away from home in 28 matches and Hereford boss Peter Beadle said he was "astounded" by the character his side showed to rescue a point.

Supersub Coyle hits four-timer in Kidlington win

KIDLINGTON striker Lewis Coyle was the star of the show as he scored a stunning four goals in a 4-2 win in Kiddy's first visit to Northwood in over 35 years.

Coyle, who came on for the injured Jack Dunmall in the 11th minute, put in a man of the match performance to bring the points back to Kidlington, who twice had to come from behind.

The Wood took the lead in the 23rd minute of the Central Division match through Myles Stephenson, who powered home from 12 yards, before Coyle equalised for the Greens from even further out less than 10 minutes later.

The London side restored their lead through Louis Stead after a fumble by Kidlington keeper Sam Warrell just after the hour mark.

But Kiddy were back on level terms on 67 minutes when Coyle scored with a spectacular dipping free-kick from 25 yards.

When Coyle was brought down unceremoniously in the penalty box, Kidlington were given the chance to take the lead for the first time from the spot.

Coyle took a short run up and blasted the ball home to complete his hat-trick in the 74th minute.

And the points were secured for Julian McCalmon's side when Coyle scored his fourth – and final – goal in the 86th minute as he fired a screamer of a shot that bent away from Montel Joseph's despairing dive and into the bottom corner of the goal.

The win moves Kiddy up to 16th. They host ninth place Egham Town on Saturday.

Teenager Roberts holds nerve to slot home winner

Penalties give U's victory

By George Welch

OXFORD United had to rely on penalties to beat fellow League One side Southend United and secure their passage into the 3rd round of the Checkatrade Trophy after a 1-1 draw in normal time on Tuesday.

Chris Maguire looked to have won it for the U's when he scored nine minutes from time with a spectacular 30-yard free kick.

But an Anthony Wordsworth equaliser five minutes later forced United into their third penalty shoot-out of the competition.

However, it proved third time lucky for the U's as they had previously lost on penalties in the group stage against Swindon Town and Chelsea.

While Oxford's 34-penalty shoot-out marathon against Chelsea's development side last month became an English record, teenager Tyler Roberts held his nerve against Southend to send the Yellows through with just their fifth penalty.

Maguire, Kane Hemmings, Phil Edwards and Roberts converted from 12 yards to beat the Shrimpers 4-3. Winger Marvin Johnson had seen his effort saved by Mark Oxley in the Southend goal. But thankfully for Michael Appleton's side, although Jason Demetriou, Wordsworth and Ryan Leonard scored from the spot for Southend, Simon Cox and Stephen McLaughlin made costly mistakes from 12-yards to give Oxford the win.

Simon Eastwood saved from Cox before McLaughlin blazed over, meaning the responsibility to send United through to the next round fell on the shoulders of Roberts.

The 17-year-old, who had scored for West Brom's under-23s from the spot earlier this season, held his nerve to send the U's one step closer to returning to Wembley.

Maguire's stunning 30-yard free kick had given Oxford a worthy lead, who had been the better of the two teams after half time.

But Wordsworth, who scored the winner against United from the spot in a 2-1 win in September, bundled in from close range to level the scores.

With 16 teams now remaining, the 3rd round will be the first one that is not drawn on a regional basis.

The draw for the 3rd round of the Checkatrade Trophy takes place today.

White strikes late to claim Banbury win

BANBURY United came back from a goal down to clinch a win deep in stoppage time against Stratford Town to put an end to a three-match losing run on Saturday.

The Puritans collected their first three points since the start of November thanks to the late Callum White winner to earn the home side a 2-1 win and keep them in play-off contention.

White's winner came after a Stratford own goal by Guy Clark 11 minutes from time cancelled out Ben Stephens' goal on the hour mark for Town.

And just two minutes after equalising, a Zac McEachran cross from the right found Ricky Johnson at the far post but Niall Cooper in the Stratford goal blocked the United striker's point-blank effort.

It looked though as United would have to be content with a point. But three minutes into stoppage time, a deep cross from the right by White sailed over Cooper's head in the Town goal and into the far corner of the net.

City's winning run sunk by The Fleet

• James Roberts scored City's only goal of the game (Picture by Michael Allen)

OXFORD City's resurgent league campaign was stopped in its tracks by promotion-hunting Ebbsfleet United on Saturday.

Despite taking an early lead through James Roberts, Ebbsfleet fought back with three goals to deny the Hoops a fourth win in a row.

Charlie Sheringham, the son of England and Manchester United legend Teddy, got the Fleet back on level terms just before half time before Sean Shields and Bradley Bubb scored in the last 20 minutes to claim the three points.

City were left ruining a number of missed chances and defeat leaves Justin Merritt's side 17th in the National League South, six points clear of the drop-zone, while Ebbsfleet propelled themselves into 3rd.

The Hoops continued their fine form when Roberts picked the pocket of a defender before unleashing a curling effort into the top corner.

Buoyed by the early breakthrough, City continued to push forwards with both fullbacks given licence to get forward and support the attacking play.

But, as the game wore on, Ebbsfleet worked their way into the game and were level six minutes before half-time. The ball found the feet of Sheringham with his back to goal in the centre of the box before he turned and unleashed a vicious shot into the bottom left-hand corner of Ty Belford's goal.

Ebbsfleet secured the points with two goals in four minutes to record their first win in three matches.

Shields fired the Fleet into the lead on 72 minutes when he slid the ball through Belford's legs before Bubb finished at the near post when left unmarked from a corner.

City host Hungerford Town, another promotion-chasing side, on Saturday.

Oxford hope for better show in Macclesfield FA Cup replay

By George Welch

• Oxford beat seventh-tier Merstham in the 1st round (Picture by Steve Daniels)

OXFORD United could face higher opposition for the first time in this season's FA Cup after the winners of their replay with National League Macclesfield Town were handed a 3rd round tie at Championship club Rotherham.

Should United overcome Macclesfield in their replay at the Kassam on Tuesday night, Michael Appleton's side would fancy their chances against Rotherham. Friday's encounter in the north west ended in a goalless draw.

It might not be the glamour draw that Appleton would have wanted to add incentive to the 2nd round replay but the Yorkshire club, who are on to their third manager of the campaign already, have one win all season, are 11 points adrift at the bottom of the table and winless in 15 matches.

Oxford were poor throughout in their FA Cup 2nd round tie against non-league Macclesfield, who play two levels below the League One side, in front of the TV cameras and were lucky to escape with a draw.

In a night of very few positives, the only real cause for optimism was that the Yellows were still in the hat for the 3rd round draw on Monday.

The Silkmen, who sit seven points off the play-offs in the National League after a 3-0 win at Wrexham on Tuesday, started the brightest and maintained a high intensity for 90 minutes, defying their inferior position in the English football pyramid.

The tone of the match was set early on as a speculative overhead kick from defender John McCombe and a dangerous Danny Rowe header made it a nervy opening 10 minutes for the U's.

It was the non-league side that asked the more testing questions on a chilly evening, with Oxford's Simon Eastwood the far busier goalkeeper.

Oxford spent large parts of the match on the back foot and, as their defensive unit continued to look uncomfortable, Macclesfield nearly took the lead on 24 minutes when Joe Skarz dithered on the edge of the area.

The left back's poor back pass nearly fell to Chris Holroyd but Chey Dunkley, who had already been booked, timed his tackle to perfection to steal the ball from the former Brighton striker.

But it was a let-off for the U's as the ball squeezed through Eastwood's legs before being cleared by Aaron Martin.

Shaky in defence and blunt up front, United finally forced keeper Craig Ross into a save a minute later, albeit a straightforward one for the Macclesfield stopper.

Danny Whitaker pulled all the strings in midfield for the Silkmen and, on the half-hour mark, he set up Paul Lewis who could only blast his effort wide. Lewis continued to cause problems from midfield.

Lewis and captain Andy Halls went close for John Askey's men, who knocked out League One Walsall in the 1st round, just before half-time as a disgruntled Appleton looked on.

Marvin Johnson struck the bar with a deflected cross at the start of the second half but Macclesfield continued to pepper the Oxford backline with crosses, corners and shots – Jack Mackreth, in particular, caused problems for the Football League side's defence.

United nearly took the lead against the run of play on 68 minutes but, from a set piece, Dunkley shaved the outside of the post. Tyler Roberts should have put Oxford ahead two minutes later but Ross got down well to deny the on-loan West Brom striker's scuffed finish.

But Macclesfield did not relent and could have forced a winner on 78 minutes when Eastwood had to be at his best to thwart Lewis before Mackreth crashed an effort against the post with 10 minutes to go.

The two sides meet again at the Kassam on Tuesday and the club have reduced ticket prices for the tie.
